Most Holy Trinity

Trinity Sunday celebrates one God, three persons, complete mystery. And the readings this week ground us in the simplicity of who God is and what God does for us.

The story of Moses on the mountain reveals a God who meets us on the mountains of our lives, who reveals his mercy and love, faithfulness and patience. When we ask God for what we need, he answers, even if his answers aren't as immediate or clear as the stone tablets. In the fullness of time, this same God reveals the plan for our salvation: Jesus is sent in human flesh to love us. By his life, death and rising, Jesus gives us the example of how to love and then gives us the gift of the Spirit.

So much of our spiritual life is participation in a mystery that is beyond our understanding, but the second reading offers us a simple guide and blessing. Live the moments of your life seeking peace with God and one another, and allow the healing grace of Jesus, the love of the Father, and the communion of the Spirit to be poured over you and everything you do.

May it be enough for us to live right in the middle of this mystery of God working love in and through our lives. May the Father, Son and Holy Spirit flow through us to those most in need of God's simple and saving love.

Body and Blood of Christ

Today the Church celebrates the feast of the Body and Blood of Christ. The Gospel demonstrates that the incarnation and Paschal mystery are essential to our understanding of Eucharist. Jesus is God incarnate, the Word made flesh. He is also the suffering servant.

The underlying meaning of Eucharist is self-giving. This had implications for discipleship. The Gospel refers to manna, God's gift of daily bread that nourished the hungry Hebrews in the desert. As the Word made flesh, Jesus is God's gift of self, freely given to humanity. He is the eternal food, ever-present and accessible to us in the Eucharist elements of bread and wine. He is the nourishment that satisfies; he is the food that has the power to transform the individual and the world. Through his suffering, death and resurrection, Jesus becomes spiritual food.

As the Paschal mystery bodily transformed Jesus, the body and blood of Christ transform us. Our participation in the Eucharist indicates our willingness to be fashioned more closely into his image. We do not abide with Christ in the Eucharist solely for our own benefit. This transformation is a blessing and a responsibility.

The body and blood of Christ should empower us to carry the ministry of Jesus into the world. May we become food for others through our acts of mercy, compassion, and justice.

Prayer to the Holy Trinity

Glory be to the Father,

Who by His almighty power and love created me,
making me in the image and likeness of God.

Glory be to the Son,

Who by His Precious Blood delivered me from hell,
and opened for me the gates of heaven.

Glory be to the Holy Spirit,

Who has sanctified me in the sacrament of Baptism,
and continues to sanctify me

by the graces I receive daily from His bounty.

Glory be to the Three adorable Persons of the Holy Trinity,
now and forever.

Amen.
